Ocean Cheeseboard Workshop

Cannot be combined with food and drink consumption.

Food should be consumed before or after the event.

Inventory:

For the workshop, we require tables and chairs to accommodate everyone, along with access to power outlets (1 outlet accommodating 10 people).

The board needs to cure overnight.

Ideally, it should dry on the table where it was created. Alternatively, it can be carefully transported into the box to cure for 10+ hours at a different location.

Set up and clean up:

Setting up will take approximately 45 minutes to 1 hour, with an additional 30 minutes allocated for the clean-up process.

Note:

Creating with epoxy resin is an intensive process that demands participants to carefully follow instructions and adhere to specific timing.

The workshop should commence no later than 10 minutes after the scheduled start time. All participants should be present by that time. If the commencement of the workshop is delayed due to the client's arrangements, additional charges may apply, as the workshop is conducted with our creative team. Please notify us in advance if any activities before the workshop are running behind schedule.
